FUNNY THINGS OF THE WAR.

Queer Freaks Taken by Men on the March—Carrying a Looking Glass.

"There were lots of funny things about the war," said Col. Frederick Martin of the Brooklyn Elevated the other day, "now that you think of them when the tears are dried away, and about the funniest things I recall were the queer articles the boys used to pick up on the march and the eccentric way in which they'd tote 'em along to finally adorn some ditch by the wayside. Stragglers were the worst at this, but all the fellows were bad enough. Whenever the army went through a first family residence the boys would capture what struck each as most attractive, and some of their tastes were peculiar. They had a great weakness for cradles. You may ask me what a man treading his way to the front wanted with a mahogany cradle, and I'm blest if I know, but they took 'em. First one man would back a cradle and cart it a dozen miles; then he'd begin to cuss and finally drop it.

"Now you'd suppose that any ordinary idiot would just look at a cradle as it lay in the road and pass on, but they wouldn't. Some one would be certain to pick it up and lug it a few miles further into the Confederacy.

"I recall one cradle that traveled 100 miles on blue backs before it went to increase the blaze of a mess fire. Somehow they seemed to think vaguely that there was a chance of getting the infant soother home, but they never succeeded.

"The funniest thing I ever saw carried was a looking glass high as your head and two feet wide. I saw it first in the parlor of a central Virginian mansion and next on a soldier's back headed for Petersburg. Then I lost sight of it for two days and found it again propped up against a tree forty miles further along. The next day I saw it traveling tenderly on a straggler's back. He had his gun in one hand and had somehow strapped the glass so that he could get along without holding fast to it.

"Well, this fellow must have got tired, for the next day a third man had it and the next a fourth. This chap toted it on to the lines at Petersburg. He set it up against a tree, took a long, regretful look at full length of his shabby self and turned away with a sigh.

"It was just as well that he did. The next minute along came a minie bullet, buzzing like a hornet, and hit the glass square in the center and smashed it into a frame full of cracks radiating from around the hole.

"The heavier and the more useless things were the more they clung to them, even combining to escort pianos into untimely graves in mud holes; but the man who could steal a rocking chair was a white robed angel in his own mind and the object of universal envy.

"Another funny thing was to have the sutler strike the camp loaded with condensed milk. I've seen a whole regiment sitting on a fence, each man with a milk can in one hand dipping out the thick white stuff with his forefinger and licking it off with an expression of beatitude that would make a Raphaelite saint look sick in comparison."—New York Sun.

DARK DAYS

Seen to All the Rage in South Carolina,
According to the Events
Narrated Below.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 15.—The court of sessions or criminal court of Edgewood county is now sitting in Edgewood and the docket is loaded with cases, the most of which are for offenses against the person. During the past week, S. D. Timmerman, who some months ago shot and killed a negro boy, seventeen years of age, in a spirit of malicious mischief, was declared "not guilty" and was set free. Robert T. Jones, an artist, having killed three men in one day, all relatives, has just been found guilty of manslaughter, the jury having "given what they termed a "compromise verdict." Jones shot two brothers-in-law and his father-in-law, all named Pressby. In one case the jury disagreed and now he escapes the gallows by the above verdict. The cause celebre is, however, the Culbreath lynching case, which began yesterday morning. Thirty-one men are accused of the murder of O. T. Culbreath, September 21, 1885. These men, when first arraigned, all pleaded "not guilty" and were admitted to bail. Many of the defendants are representatives of the best families in the state, among them being State Senator Talbert. One is a prominent physician, another is a brother of Mrs. Culbreath. Half of them charged with the crime are married, and some are white haired and have grand children. There is no likelihood that they will be convicted, although the state is making a strong effort to secure the punishment of the murderers. During the last thirteen years there has been 112 murders committed in the county. The record for the year 1886 shows fourteen.

A SISTER'S SHAME

Is Insufficiently Avenged in a Cincinnati Court Room by Patrick Sheehan.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—This morning when the prisoners were brought into police court for trial, an athletic young man, who had been standing by the stove for some time sprang at the line and struck one of the prisoners a blow which sent him staggering across the room, and attempted to follow up the assault, but was overpowered, and by direction of the court he was locked up for contempt of court. A vicious shoe knife was found in his pocket, and he declared he would have vengeance at the first opportunity. His name was Patrick Sheehan. The prisoner, Teddy Cunningham, was about to be tried for having forcibly carried from the street to his room, on Saturday night last, the fifteen year old sister of Sheehan, as she was returning from church and keeping her a prisoner in his room, subject to his lust, until Monday morning. Cunningham's trial was postponed.

A GOOD ONE.

A New York Lad Starts on a Tramp With $29,650 in Bank Checks.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Albert Parr, a sixteen-year-old messenger boy employed by the Wall street firm of Orring & Winter, was seized with a desire to become a tramp a few days ago. Accordingly when he was sent to the bank Monday with $29,650 in checks and some cash to deposit he did not go to the bank, but started out on his travels. He got as far as Williamsburg, when he met some tramps of the real kind. They soon spent all the cash Parr had and then discovered they could not cash the checks. The boy accordingly tore them into small pieces and threw them away. He and his companions have been arrested and the Wall street firm is trying to get duplicates of their checks.

Death of Tilden's Sister.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Mrs. Mary P. Tilden, sister of the late ex-Governor Tilden, died Saturday of pneumonia, aged 78 years. A city paper says: "None of the money or other property left her by her brother, the late Governor Tilden, had been received up to the time of her death. A special request to the executors to hurry up the execution of the trust, so that she might enjoy it during her lifetime, was made some time ago, and met with no response. Mr. A. H. Green called upon Mrs. Tilden a short time ago, and offered to loan her some money to meet any pressing necessities, but Mrs. Tilden replied that she did not care to borrow any money but would like to have what her brother had left her. The old ladies were very much disappointed to think they have been treated so shabbily by the executors. The death of Mrs. Tilden may possibly bring them to their senses. The friends of the family say the heirs have been treated by the executors more as mendicants than sisters, nieces and relatives of the dead statesman and millionaire."

CREMATED.

Three Firemen Buried in the Ruins of
a Big Burned Block.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—The large brick building of Miller, Greiner & Co., corner of Washington and North Division streets, opposite the Commercial Advertiser office, burned this morning. Loss on building $200,000; on stock $250,000. Insurance heavy. It is reported that two or three firemen are buried in the ruins.

Meant Business.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 15.—The steamer City of New York arrived from Hong Kong late last night. It announces the failure of the Tung Lung Chinese bank. When the fact was made known, a crowd of native creditors stormed the bank and completely ransacked and destroyed every thing in the building.

NO BLUFF.

The Speed of a Murder is Fatally Declined by Two Kentucky Friends.

LOUISVILLE, March 15.—A special from Moorhead, Ky., says: "Another of Moorhead's citizens breathed his last this morning at the hands of his best and most esteemed friend, J. S. Witchoy, formerly a conductor on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, was talking with his friend, John Trumbo, and playfully remarked: 'I could cut your throat, Trumbo, were you and I to get into a fight, before you could draw your pistol to save your life.' " "Well," said Trumbo, "I will just show you that you couldn't." Thus saying, he pulled his pistol, pointing it at Witchoy, when the deadly weapon went off and Witchoy fell to the floor dead. It is said that they entertained not the least malice and never had any difficulty.

Southern Prison Directors.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 15.—Governor Gray yesterday appointed Mr. Clement Doane, of Jasper, Dubois county, and Mr. George W. Denbo, of Corydon, Harrison county, to be directors of the southern prison.

Warden Patten will recommend Representative W. L. Barnes, of Charleston, Clark county, for deputy warden; Mr. W. F. Johnson, of Orange county, for steward, and Mr. Richard Connor, of this city, for clerk.

Starting Up.

MILWAUKEE, March 15.—Nail factory, nail plate mill and cooper shops of the North Chicago rolling mill company's plant, and Bayview, has resumed operations after an idleness of several months. About 200 men were given employment.

A Watchman Burned.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 15.—The half consumed body of Henry Warkent, night watchman on the Pittsburgh Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, was found cremated on a pile of railroad ties at Crafton.

He Must Hang.

St. Louis, March 15.—Henry Landgroff, who was convicted last week of murdering his sweetheart, Annie Tisch, was sentenced to be hanged April 29th.

Manning Sails for Europe.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Ex-Secretary Manning sailed for Europe on the steamer, Arizona, this morning. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Following are the weather indications:
Indiana, fair, warmer weather.

On Saturday well No. 2, being sunk by the Marion coal gas company, struck a rich flow of gas at a depth of 875 feet.

William Airman was drowned at Elkhart Saturday night by the upsetting of a row-boat. The remains have not recovered.

Alexander W. Nixon, grocer of Noblesville, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to John C. Craig. Assets, about $1,500; liabilities $2,000.

HOW IT WORKS.

Advance Pointers From the Inter State Commerce Law.

At a meeting of railroad managers in Commissioner Fink's office in New York Friday, the following decisions were made: Mileage tickets are abolished. Ministers are allowed reduced fares. Excursion tickets are defined to mean a round trip ticket sold at a reduced rate to a person who, under conditions, desires to make a journey within a given time to a given point and return, and the intention of the law is taken to be that all questions of restriction, limitation, place and fares are to be left to the discretion of the railway companies interested respectively.

Free baggage is allowed of 150 pounds on each full first or second class ticket; seventy-three on each half ticket, and 150 pounds respectively on each full or half immigrant ticket. Baggage in excess of these allowances up to an absolute limit of 250 pounds (except for the ship immigrants) is to be charged not less than 12 per cent. of the lowest unlimited first class fare. No commercial luggage, musical instruments, organs, pianos, donkeys, horses or theatrical scenery will be transported as free baggage, and all excess baggage, order bonds and permits are to be withdrawn from sale. When joint tariffs of through fares are established where two or more connecting roads are concerned no party to the joint tariff can make any change except after formal notice to other parties. Differential fares for through and competitive business are to be established by consultation and agreement.

JUST 32,800.

The Population of Fort Wayne Officially Placed at the Figures Above.

The taking of the census of the city was concluded last night and the work was received by the finance committee of the common council. The gentlemen engaged in the work were careful and conscientious. They went over the ground carefully, and if anything their showing of a population of 32,800 is below the mark. It does not include South Wayne, the Centlivre brewery settlement and the people across the St. Joe river. They are just outside the city limits, but are all tributary to Fort Wayne and swell its population a few thousand.

The report of the census takers was to satisfy the eastern holders of city bonds that Fort Wayne had a population of over 30,000, and is as follows:

First ward—First precinct, 1,640; second precinct, 1,445.
Second ward—First precinct, 1,817; second precinct, 1,341.
Third ward—First precinct, 1,540; second precinct, 1,335.
Fourth ward—First precinct, 1,359; second precinct, 1,765.
Fifth ward—First precinct, 1,980; second precinct, 2,401.
Sixth ward—First precinct, 1,875; second precinct, 2,012.
Seventh ward—First precinct, 2,418; second precinct, 2,474.
Eighth ward—First precinct, 1,845; second precinct, 2,696.
Ninth ward—First precinct, 1,295; second precinct, 1,567.

This foots up a total population of 32,800 for the city of Fort Wayne.

ITS A GO.

The Business Men's Exchange Start
The Pennington Machine
Works With $7,- 800.

There was another big meeting of the Business Men's Exchange last evening. Mr. E. C. Rurde presided and Hon. Montgomery Hamilton, P. A. Randall, J. C. Peters, Erastus Schuman and F. L. Jones were admitted to membership, making a total of seventy names on the roll call.

Messrs. Montgomery Hamilton, J. C. Peters and Louis Rastetter reported they visited Danville and examined into Mr. E. J. Pennington's business and his own standing. Their report was so enthusiastic of the man and so favorable to his business that inside of an hour the members subscribed $7,800 towards the $20,000 necessary to establish Mr. Pennington's business here. The gentleman himself put his name down for $15,000 and a committee consisting of Messrs. Mont. Hamilton, H. C. Winch, John C. Peters, Fred Eckert and S. C.

Lumbard were appointed to solicit the additional subscriptions necessary to complete the organization of the "Fort Wayne Machine Works."

Spirited speeches were made by Col. D. N. Foster, P. A. Randall, A. S. Lauferty, Mr. John C. Peters, Mr. G. W. Seavey, Mr. E. W. Lewis and others, and every topic was touched on. The exchange is going to boom the city and invites the co-operation of all the business men.

A COOL ONE.

A Tramp Rides From Danville to Fort
Wayne on a Mail Car.

When the Wabash fast line pulled into the city this morning, Officer Lime-cooly discovered a tramp laying snugly along side the ventilating windows, on top of the United States mail car. The tourist was summoned down and reluctantly released his embrace of the stove pipe, which pierced the roof just enough to give him anchorage. The fellow grumbled at being disturbed and said, "you might let me go to Toledo, after coming this far." He related that he climbed on the coach at Danville and rode in his airy berth all night. He was bound for Toledo, his home, but declined to give his name, as he began to size up an incoming east bound freight train.

The Coroner's Work.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen, the coroner, has closed inquiry into the case of John McNally, the Wallace street grocer, and finds that death resulted from the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants. The coroner is requested to correct the statement that Mrs. McNally went to the saloon of John Nolan. Instead she called on Mrs. James Nolan.

Mr. Charley Stelhorn investigated the death of Isaac Heffelfinger, out near Huntertown. He learns that the man had been drinking hard and surmises that night before last he sought shelter in a straw stack on the Clutter farm. He died then from exposure and lay there until Charles Gephard discovered his body.

Heffelfinger has a brother in Lake township and he took charge of the remains yesterday.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Morton club is making strenuous efforts to give Colonel Robertson and Speaker Sayre a monster reception at the Temple to-night.

Mr. P. H. Murray, the genial baggageman on the Grand Rapids road, is the papa of a fine boy baby. Mrs. M., nee Hanley, lives at Grand Rapids.

Wm. Parker, traveling auditor of the Pennsylvania company, and O. E. Murray, traveling auditor of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, are in the city.

There was a big neighborhood quarrel on Chicago street yesterday. Carrie Sigman and Anna Russell got into an altercation, and after a characteristic tongue lashing, Mrs. Russell smashed in the front door of Mrs. Sigman's house and proceeded to dance a jig on Carrie's neck. The Russell woman lay in jail all night in default of bail and this morning Justice France fined her on two charges—provoke and malicious trespass. Anna will linger in jail if some one does not come to her rescue.

A Brace of Damaging Fires Loom up
to Test the New Gamewell
System.

Last week Chief Hilbrecht and his assistants completed the new Gamewell fire alarm system, and last night it was thoroughly tested, showing how admirably it is arranged.

About 10 o'clock an alarm came from box 1-2, in the Ninth ward. A barn owned by Christ Shaffer, on High street, was ablaze, but the department stopped the fire without much damage. This fire is said to be of incendiary origin.

Shortly after 1 o'clock last night Officer Lee discovered flames issuing from a stable in the rear of the old Ed-sall homestead, on West Main street. The residence is occupied jointly by Mr. S. A. Aurentz and H. Hohenholz, who stabled two horses belonging to Mr. Dan Shordan while Mr. Aurentz occupied another part for his horse and delivery wagon. The structure was very inflammable and burned like paper from the fact that gasoline was stored in the upper portion. The police and firemen rescued Mr. Aurentz's horse and wagon, but Mr. Shordan's team perished. They refused to leave the structure, which speedily burned about them.

The stable, which was the property of the Equitable Trust company, was insured by Mr. S. C. Lumbard.

Mr. Aurentz held no insurance and loses possibly $200. Mr. Shordan's loss is $300, with no insurance.

The roof of the stable in the rear of Mr. J. M. Kane's residence was burned off, but the structure was saved by the department, as well as two horses and vehicles stored therein. Mr. Kane held no insurance on his barn.

The best way is to take a pain in time, and fight it daily and hourly with Salvation Oil. 25 cts.

Daily Sentinel

OFFICIAL PAPER - BUREAU AND CITY. TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1887.

SENATOR JONES of Nevada has struck no such rich streaks of luck as lately represented. He has had no great stroke of fortune. He has done well in business, but has had nothing like the success which the numerous paragraphs printed have attributed to him.

Gov. OLIVER ANES of Massachusetts is a five-fold millionaire, with an income of more than $100,000 a year. Public sympathy is very strongly aroused in behalf of his efforts to secure an increase in his salary as Governor from $5,000 to $10,000 a year.

Mr. GEORGE BANCROFT has a German body-servant who has been with him ever since he was at Berlin. The servant wakes the historian precisely at 7 o'clock every morning and prepares his clothes for him to put on, and an hour later brings him his breakfast, of which the principal feature is fine wheat bread.

The safety envelope looks very much like any other envelope except on the gum flap, where there is a lock-stitch arrangement, two little strips of paper passing through slits prepared for them and lacing under the flap, so that any attempt to loose the envelope by steaming or other known processes will result in breaking the lock and disclosing the burglary.

THE Rev. G. T. Dowling, of Cleveland, was among the clergymen of that city who were invited to witness a performance of the "Black Crook." In refusing the invitation he said: "I would as soon accept an invitation from the devil to watch the fires of hell burn. The invitation is an insult. The Kiralfy Brothers must look upon the clergy of this country as a gang of long-eared asses."

MRS. LANGTRY has been telling of some of the freaks of Joaquin Miller, when the poet of the Sierras was at the height of his notoriety in London. He wrote a poem in her honor and called it "The Lily." A few days after its publication Miller approached Mrs. Langtry at a large reception, and, after paying his respects, bowed himself backward out of the room, and as he retreated strewed rose leaves, which he had crammed in his trousers pockets, on the floor. At that time Miller, she says, appeared in public in a red flannel shirt and top-boots.

SWITZERLAND has recently enacted two laws, the operation of which will be watched with the keenest interest all over the world. One is graduated taxation. This applies to incomes. Mere laborers, and those who make a bare living, are not taxed at all; but the larger the income, the heavier the tax. Thus, a man in receipt of $10,000 per annum pays relatively more than one whose yearly earnings are $5,000 or less. The object of the law is to discourage large accumulations of property. Indeed, it is a punishment to a man for being richer than his fellows.

WHEN it came to the question of re-engaging a certain pretty school teacher in Northumberland County, Canada, some of the trustees objected, saying that she had so many admirers that they interfered with her duties. So they drew up an agreement to the effect that she should not keep company during the coming year with any young men during school hours. Upon her refusal to sign this it was decided to leave it to a vote of the meeting as to whether she should stay or not. A show of hands resulted in a tie, when the chairman, being a young man, gave the casting vote in her favor.

LIGNITE, which is half-formed coal, has not, up to this time, attracted much attention as a combustible; but there are several parts of the earth in which it is found in abundance; in some cases, notably in Italy, to the exclusion of coal. In Italy, there is no coal; the railway locomotives are kept going by means of imported coal, and if Italy were to go to war, it would not be able even to keep up its railway service; for coal is, above most things, a contraband of war. The Italian Government has taken this matter up, and has given orders to its railway service to make the locomotives such that either coal or lignite may be burned by them; and this will give a stimulus to the working of the extensive beds of lignite which lie about the center of the peninsula, half way between the Mediterranean and Adriatic. On the line of the Northern Pacific and on the Canadian Pacific Railways, lignite is found in great quantities, and locomotives will be constructed for its utilization.

That Tired Feeling Afflicts every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

A DINNER AT DELMONICO'S.

Four or Five Dinners Given Every Night at Delmonico's.

I happened to go to Delmonico's the other day in order to find out what kind of a dinner one could get for $5 or $10 a plate. The party was to be one of a dozen gentlemen, and after satisfying myself that for $10 a plate there would be quite enough to eat and to drink to make every one of the party remember the dinner for at least a week, I fell into conversation with the steward of the kind which his establishment furnishes. It will amaze most people to know that it is the exception during the winter season when there are not four or five private dinner parties given every night in the upstairs room at Delmonico's, at prices ranging all the way from $5 to $50 a plate. The larger the party the more reasonable the term. The average price is about $5, which includes the cost of the food, the wine and cigars. There have been dinners that cost more than $50 a plate, but the money was spent upon elaborate presents to be put at each plate instead of upon delicacies of the season, or rather not of the season, for the aim at such dinners is to astonish the guests by setting before them things that they rarely see in every day life.

The Delmonico steward is something of a genius in the way of running up the cost of a dinner without endangering the life of the diner, but even he is sometimes at the end of his resources and has to be helped out by his assistants. It is told that one evening he was horrified at a tremendous crash of glassware and china in one of the rooms, and rushed up expecting to find that some of the young men at a select party of twenty had been murdered. Instead of this it was only a little amusement at the expense of the dinner, for the bill had proved so insignificant—only about $30 a plate—that all the glassware had been smashed in order to bring it up to a respectable figure. In confidence the steward informs me that, as a matter of fact, one gets quite as good a dinner for $10 as for $50, for that the very number of dishes offered to the guests at the most reckless of these entertainments prevents anything like true appreciation of their merits.

The Chamber of Commerce gives a yearly dinner, for which it pays $20 a plate, but this is not a dinner of quality rather than quantity shall be considered, and there is no better dinner than that which the Chamber offers its guests. Just at present the season for these little dinner parties has reached its height, before the ball season begins, and there is considerable rivalry between the hotels, the luxurious private mansions, and the Hotel Brunswick as to which one shall receive the cream of this business. For very large dinners the first named seems to have the preference, but for dinners of less than a hundred covers the other houses are sharp competitors. For $10 a plate I was offered at the following table: a delicious soup, a roast beef, chops, French peas, water ice punch, red head duck, salads, ices, fruit, coffee and the following wines for fourteen persons. Seven bottles of champagne, two bottles of sherry, six bottles of Bordeaux, eight bottles of champagne, six bottles of Apollinaris water and liqueurs—in all thirty bottles.—New York Cor. Brooklyn Eagle.

Demoralized New Yorkers. The reduction of fares on the Sixth Avenue elevated has convinced me that coming down town in the morning shows me how demoralized New York men are. It used to be my boast that I had never stood up in a street car, but the record is of no value now. I not only stood up and swung on a strap but I was thronged by the masses of the most disgusting old wretches, who really seemed rather to like it. Men ought to know that women do not go down town unless they have to, and gentlemen know that it is very hard for a woman to stand. The Lord didn't make them to stand. He would have put them on the most magnificent plan if this had been intended. The straps are far above the head of the average woman, one's bodice is pulled out of place and one's temper ruffled beyond all hope.

The only looking old brute in whose lap I was deposited got out the station before me. I calmly stood still swinging on my strap until some kind hearted man touched me on the shoulder and told me there was a seat. I collected all my energies and said as coolly as I could under the circumstances: "Thanks; but I couldn't think of robbing any of the gentlemen." Nobody took that seat. I know one courteous man on the most magnificent plan if this had been intended. The straps are far above the head of the average woman, one's bodice is pulled out of place and one's temper ruffled beyond all hope.

Tombs of the Sovereigns. In the vault of the Capucine church at Vienna, where the Austrian sovereigns have their tombs, is a splendid and enormous sarcophagus raised by Joseph II over the remains of his mother, Maria Theresa, and at its foot a plain iron box in which are the bones of Joseph himself, with the inscription—often repeated by him in life—"I have got so far that I love nothing on earth except my mother and the state." Near by is the tomb of the unfortunate Maximilian of Mexico, by the side of which the emperor often stands an hour in meditation and prayer.—New York Tribune.

"Goatee" Was a Genius. The nouveau cultivate loves to quote from "quaint old" this one and that; buys, but does not read, a copy of Chaucer and is proud to explain to his family that the poet was "a well of English, pure and undefiled;" has read a little in Dante and prides those who have not the advantage of familiarity with Dore's great illustrations. It was a nouvelle cultivate once overheard in a railroad train explaining that "Goatee" was a genius who studied all humanity in his own monstrous ergo!—Atlantic.

A Baby Fostered for Sale. Babies are beginning to figure as assets. A very young one was recently seized for rent, together with a cradle and a dog, on Lord Macdonald's estates in Pennines, Scotland. The dog was valued at a shilling and the infant at sixpence. Lord Macdonald is very indignant, as the baby was actually posted for sale, and he has ordered an action against the sheriff's office who took the child from its mother.—Chicago Tribune.

Importance of Microbes. The growth of plants has been practically demonstrated by M. Laurent, who obtained only one fourth as much buckwheat from sterilized mold as in soil containing bacteria.—Arkansas Traveler.

WHAT VOODOO WORSHIP IS.

The Signification of the Word "Voodoo."

Worship in the West Indies.

Sir Spenser St. John gives a very spirited description of Voodoo worship in Hayti. "According to the true secretaries of the Voodoo," he says, "who maintain its principle and obey its rules, 'Voodoo' signifies an all powerful and supernatural being on whom depend all the events which take place in the world. This being is the non-venomous serpent—one so common in Hayti—and it is under its auspices that all those assemble who profess this doctrine. Acquaintance with the past, knowledge of the present, presence of the future, all appertain to this serpent, that only consents, however, to communicate his power and prescribe his will through the organ of a grand priest, whom the secretaries elect, and still more by that of the negress, whom the love of the latter has raised to the rank of high priestess. These two delegates, who declare themselves inspired by their god or in whom the gift of inspiration is really manifested, in the opinion of their followers, bear the pompous name of 'king' and 'queen,' or the despotic one of 'master' and 'mistress,' or the touching titles of 'papa' and 'mamma.' They are during their whole lives the chiefs of the great family of the Voodoo, and they have a right to the unlimited respect of those who compose it. It is they who decide if the serpent agrees to admit a candidate into the society, who prescribe the obligations and the duties he has to fulfill; it is they who receive the gifts and presents that the gods expect as a just recompense to him.

"To disobey them, to resist them, is to disobey God himself and expose one's self to the greatest misfortunes. This system of domination on the one hand and of blind obedience on the other being well established, they at fixed dates meet together and the king and queen of the Voodoo preside, following the forms which were probably brought from Africa and to which Creole customs have added many variations and some traits which betray European ideas, as for instance the scarf or rich belt which the queen wears at these assemblies, and which she occasionally varies."

As for the practice of Voodoo worship, it is well to say that of the votaries in Hayti there seem to be two classes—those who worship the serpent and offer animal sacrifice to appease his wrath or court his favor, and those who kill human beings, but not offer them as sacrifices, but eat their flesh. Of the former fully 15 per cent. of the inhabitants of Hayti are alleged to be given over to that kind of Voodooism to a certain extent; of the latter sufficient has been told. The temples of the Voodoo are generally small, unpretentious wooden buildings—called by the natives 'Hautours'—and are scattered generally throughout the interior of Hayti. Some of them are most inconspicuous in their interior decorations, and one situated a little distance back of Heaux du Cap was profusely decorated with illustrations from colored weekly pamphlets, interspersed with gaudy chromatic pictures of various saints.—New York World.

A MEDICINE, NOT A DRINK!

High Authority.

Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters. GREEN B. BAUM, U. S. Com'r Internal Rev.

Wilmington, D. C., Sept. 24, 1884. Dear Sir:—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W. of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful case. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York; in fact all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum. I honestly believe his case would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of your bitters. J. A. W.

Prejudice Kills. "Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to good health by Hop Bitters, that we had pooled at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents—Good Templars.

MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1886. Having used Hop Bitters, the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc., I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters. Respectfully, Rev. Mrs. J. H. ELLGOOD.

SOUTH, M. Y., Dec. 1, 1884. I am the pastor of the Baptist church here and an educated physician. I am not in practice, but am my sole family physician, and advise in chronic cases. Over a year ago I recommended your Hop Bitters to my invalid wife, who has been under medical treatment of Albany's best physicians several years. She has been greatly benefited and still uses the medicine. I believe she will become thoroughly cured of her various complicated diseases by their use. We both recommend them to our friends, many of whom have also been cured of their various ailments by them. Rev. E. B. WARREN.

Cured of Drinking. "A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady; and he has remained a steady and sober man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. LONGACRE & CO.,

No. 46 Harrison Street, Fort Wayne, Ind. Jan. 10-4w-1y.

A Most Pathetic Picture.

The most pathetic picture of the streets I know of is the children's window of a great hospital that I pass every day. The children's window is on the first floor, not so high above the level of the sidewalk but that one can see most of the interior with its prim little cots and its prim white walls, on which a few colored prints are hung. Some of the little sufferers lie in easy chairs at the vast windows looking at the tall fence across the way and the great houses and the sky beyond with steady eyes. Others, who can move about, come and go and extend their salutations to the people who pass.

It is a pretty sight to see their patient, pallid features light up when the greeting is returned. And to the credit of the cynical town be it said that few pass the place, from the newsboy to the fat old member resting to late breakfast at his club on the corner, who have not nod or a wave of the hand for the children of sorrow behind the plate glass.

Late at night the picture takes another aspect. The window is deserted, some dolls and toys and books, maybe, still glittering in the light. The lights are down in the ward and the cots masquerade among many shadows. These shadows possess an odd pulsating movement, for the draft in the big room flickers the lights a little, so that you can readily imagine the painful breathing of the little sleepers to be visibly reflected on the walls. In the dead stillness of the deserted street there is a strange fascination about this vast dim room, so open to the view and yet so full of the sorrowful mystery of anguish and misery. You never hear a sound suggestive of distress or agony. The thick plate glass deadens every sound that may arise within. But the very profundity of the silence people to your bed with the poor, white faces of the children of the hospital fluttering before your eyes, distorted by the torments that the night must bring to them instead of the repose of happy childhood on its bed of down. —Alfred Trumble in New York News.

A Ghost on the Track.

"I never see any ghosts or hoodoos on the track," said an old grizzled engineer on the Northwestern road the other day, "but there's a spot a piece up the track that I never pass without feeling sort of uneasy. Seven years ago I was coming into town at a pretty lively trot when Jake, my fireman, who was on the look-out, yelled to me that there was something on the track. Although it was late in the evening and rain was falling furiously I could see a dark object on the track at the Ashland avenue crossing. I gave the whistle lever a yank, reversed the engine and sanded the track, but all to no purpose. We were going too fast to make a quick stop, and in less than five seconds the engine shot into the structure, if such it may be called, and hurled it to one side.

"As we sped by I heard a scream and saw a girl dancing wildly on the sidewalk. As soon as we came to a full stop I found that we had run into a baby carriage which a servant girl had allowed to slip her right at the fast approaching headlight of our engine. The child? Poor thing, it was crushed like an egg shell. Every time I pass that crossing I see the little white face and the 'brothered dress all stained with red. Even the old engine seems to tremble as she wheels over the spot. To me this stretch of track is the worst on the whole line. Other engineers have their wicked rails further out of town." —Chicago Herald.

George Washington's Economy.

I do in earnest exhort upon you to see that the hay is used with the greatest economy at the Mansion House, and particularly to guard against Mrs. J. Washington's Charles and her boy in the stables, both of whom are impudent and self-willed and care not how extravagant they feed or even waste; for I have caught the boy several times littering his horses with hay. Except her blind horse (which may be endangered by running at large) I see no sort of necessity there is for feeding with either grain or hay when they are not used, or any other horse that is at liberty and able to provide for itself.

"I can plainly perceive that in a little time (after saving what oats I wanted for seed another year) there will be nothing either for my negroes or horses to eat without buying, which will neither comport with my interest or inclination. By Stuart's report I find that he still continues to feed horses with corn instead of cut oats, as I directed. What two saddle horses are those which stand in the Mansion House report? I know of none but the one Mr. Whiting used to ride." What country gentleman of our day on his city absences puts this particularity and sagacity into his queries? —Donald G. Mitchell in American Agriculturist.

Grafting Frog's Flesh upon a Man.

An interesting operation of flesh grafting, which was one of the discoveries of M. Paul Bert, has just been performed by a young French surgeon named Dr. Dubouquet-Laborde. A workman had his foot scorched by molten iron and the skin was destroyed over a surface of about eight inches by four. Dr. Dubouquet took four strips of flesh from the thigh of a young man and four from a frog and transferred them to the wound. By great care the wounds healed in a few days. The cicatrix obtained by the frog's skin was soft, elastic and inodorous; that from human flesh was a little strained, harder, and produced irritation on some points. The patient has now been able to resume his occupation. The result of the operation is of great importance in showing the superiority of frog skin, while on the other hand human flesh is not always to be had in sufficient quantities for burns or wounds of any size, and the dissection of strips is very painful. —Galignani's Messenger.

Saratoga's Toboggan Slide.

The people of Saratoga have something to look forward to in the way of pleasure in the great toboggan slide that has been erected there. W. B. Gage, one of the proprietors of the United States hotel, was in New York the other day and fell into talking about tobogganing at Saratoga. Among other things he said: "Our toboggan hill will be nearly half a mile in length. The length of the slide last year was 2,400 feet. This year it will be 2,500 or 2,600 feet. The club has a lease of the grounds for ten years and everything is being put up in permanent shape to tobogganing a regular winter pastime. There is nothing like a race down a toboggan slide to bring a good appetite. The sleds go over the distance in about nineteen seconds. You have hardly started before you are at the bottom. The sensation is something remarkable. It is only after two or three trips that one gets accustomed to the feeling of security which makes the pastime pleasurable." —New York Tribune.

Boltz & Derbeimer bid:

For all pipe from 3 to 18 inches 60 per cent. off price list and 20 to 24 inch pipe 50 per cent. off price list.

The following proposals for furnishing pipe for water works were read and on motion of Mr. Doehrer were read and referred to the committee on water works and water works trustees.

A. Hattersley & Sons agree to furnish 2,085 feet 3-inch C. I. water pipe; 3,750 feet 6-inch C. I. water pipe; 13 hydrants, 2 8-inch eddy valves, 3 6-inch eddy valves, 5 valve boxes, lay the above pipe and casting, set the hydrants, valves and valve boxes and complete the work for $6,740.15.

H. O'Brien offers to do the same work for $7,200.00.

R. D. Wood & Co. agree to furnish 6-inch C. I. water pipe at $37.00 per 2,000 pounds.

Kerr Murray Manufacturing company agree to furnish and deliver on board cars at Fort Wayne 11 tons of 6 and 8 inch water pipe for the sum of $34 per ton of 2,000 pounds. They also agree to furnish 2,400 pounds of 6 to 8 inch pipe at $22 per 2,000 pounds, 2,000 pounds, on cars at Fort Wayne.

Dennis Long & Co. offer to furnish the same pipe at $35 per ton.

The Mellett Foundry and Machine company offer to furnish the same pipe at $32 per ton. The Ohio Pipe company bid $32.44 per ton of 2,000 pounds.

On motion of Councilman Schwartz a recess was taken till Wednesday, March 9, 7:30 p. m.

From the Antipodes. A recent letter from the Sandwich Islands says that Ponds Extract is a favorite remedy there for all kinds of Pains, Inflammation, and Hemorrhage, but especially for curing Wounds, Bites, and Stings of insects with which their country abounds. They get the genuine Ponds Extract there, too, the imitators have not followed that far with their spurious stuff.

A Well Bred Carrier Pigeon.

There are a hundred ways of recognizing a well bred, promising bird. When you see one with strong feathers closely connected to the body with the wings substantial and finely pinioned to the form, with a full head from the end of the back, with the shaft of the wing feathers almost inflexible at the end, with a deep, broad chest and a wide overlapping web which stops the air from rushing through when in flight, you can bet all the wealth accumulated since Adam that that bird will carve out a memorable record. As the speed of the bird is dependent on his shape, resolution and endurance, those in charge of breeding cannot be too particular in seeing that they are bred short. For difficult work and long journeys birds between 2 and 5 1/2 years are the best. Their ambition is then at its height. Frequently a few birds will indulge in long flights until they reach the age of 8 years. After that time they are available only for breeding purposes. —New York Commercial Advertiser.

A New Trick from the Actresses.

A new trick learned from the actresses is to tint the ears for evening occasions. The female mind has taken the notion that so long as men speak admiringly of pink ears an auricular deep blush may be put on to stay while desired. Therefore, when adorning themselves for ball, opera or other places of personal display, they rouge their ears inside and out. As the adjacent portions of cheeks and heads are white, either naturally or from powdering, the contrast is rather startling. Well, some of the girls at Jerome park had painted ears on their frivolous heads. Leonard Jerome, boss committeeman, gazed for a moment at one of them, and then caught her in his arms, held her tight and kissed her. She was a distant relative and he a veteran, but she got angry just the same and asked him how he dared.

"An old custom from the hussling bees," he said, "when you see a red ear you can kiss the girl who shows it." —Clara Belle's Letter.

Where the Smoke Went.

The Widow McCarthy, of Chicago, dropped a pint bottle full of powder into the cook stove to get it out of her way. When it got out of her way the stove, a part of the house and the Widow McCarthy adjoined to a vacant lot. "But I supposed that smoke always went up the stove pipe," were her first words as she came to. —Detroit Free Press.

The Dressmaker's Demise.

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodform, when she was told of the demise of Miss Gimp, the dressmaker. "How fortunate! She finished my garment only day before yesterday; now I am certain that she can make none like it for anybody else." —Boston Transcript.

Something About Money.

There is something about money that dries up the affections. I suppose that one reason of it is that the moment a man gets any money there are so many trying to get it away from him that he thinks the whole race are his enemies. —Col. Bob Ingersoll.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy and medicinal merit.

There is such a boom in meamerism in Elkhart as to interfere with work in the public schools, and the school authorities have peremptorily ordered, under severe penalty, its discontinuance among pupils.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

We Caution All Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market in order to trade upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in the highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price, 50 cents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jan. 19-4w-1v.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE.

Stylish, Durable, Easy Fitting. The best $3 shoe in the world.

$2.50 SHOE equals the $3 shoe advertised by other firms.

Our $2

SHOE FOR BOYS gives great satisfaction. All the above are made in Button, Congress and Lace, all styles of toe. Sold by 2,000 dealers throughout the U. S. If your dealer does not keep them, send name on postal to W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

BEWARE OF FRAUD.—It has come to my attention that some unscrupulous dealers are offering other goods as mine, and when asked why my stamp is not on the shoe, state that I have discontinued its use. THIS IS FALSE. Take none represented to be the W. L. DOUGLAS shoe, unless it has my stamp and the price are stamped on bottom of each shoe. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

Dealers will find it to their advantage to write for terms at once.

THE CITY NEWS.

Hi Henry is going to work Alvin Jos-lin's diamond racket on us.

Mrs. Monroe Jones, of Grand Rapids, is the guest of her parents.

Supt. W. H. Canniff, of the Lake Shore road, was a guest of the Aveline house last night.

Mrs. Will Compaet is very ill. Her sister has been summoned from Pittsburg to attend her.

Dr. A. J. Laubach was allowed $294.- 55 out of the estate of Almira Wells by Judge O'Rourke yesterday.

A verdict for the plaintiff was rendered by the jury in the case of George H. Wilson, administrator, against Jacob Kell.

The Louisiana Lottery drawing occurs to-day and ticket holders are living in expectation, a very appropriate diet for Lent.

Owing to the increase in the business of Lillie and Munson they have been compelled to put a new truck on the streets.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bedford, of Canton, Dakota, are the guests of Mrs. and John Orr. Mrs. Bedford is pleasantly recalled as Miss Amelia Orr.

Prof. Fred Reineke's orchestra has been engaged to play at Library Hall
St. Patrick's evening, the occasion of Rt.
Rev. Bishop Dwenger's lecture.

Sheriff and Mrs. DeGroff Nelson were at Indianapolis over Sunday. Mr. Nelson reports the serious illness of Pat
Deegan at the state insane asylum.

The petition before the county commissioners, asking for an election on the question of freeing gravel roads, has the names of 100 leading citizens and taxpayers attached to it.

There is some controversy between Receiver Hayden, of the Gazette, and Mr. Raymond, who did the commercial write-up Sunday. Mr. O. L. Perry is arbitrator and holds a round hundred dollars to await a settlement.

The Jenny electric light works are connected by wire with the Western Union office and a special operator will be employed by the Jenny people, who do one-third of the telegraph business
passing through the Fort Wayne office.

Joseph Rex, who has been lecturing on temperance, is going to travel for the Yohay paper house. Years ago Mr.
Rex was regarded as one of the best salesmen on the road, when he left liquor alone. He had a reputation all through the west and may climb to the top again.

Albert H. Elwood, formerly mail clerk on the postal route of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, between Grand Rapids and Cincinnati, pleaded guilty to robbing the mails, and was sentenced by Judge Severing, of Grand Rapids, to two years at hard labor in the Detroit house of correction.

An attempt was made to wreck a Wabash passenger train near Marshallfield, Saturday morning. A bag of blasting powder was found in the coal, where it had been placed by some scoundrel. It weighed three pounds and would have blown the boiler to pieces and probably killed the engineer and fireman.

The results of Jay Gould's rule or ruin policy are daily becoming more apparent on the eastern division of the Wabash railroad, recently placed in the hands of Receiver Cooley by Judge Graham. Since the separation of the lines east and west of the Mississippi, Gould has diverted all through bound business of the Missouri Pacific at St.
Louis to roads south of the Wabash and in the last two months the freight traffic
of the Wabash main line has fallen off
one-half in consequence.

There was no police court this morning.

Hay is selling for from $11 to $12 a ton.

Mr. Frank Baker was at Lafayette
over Sunday.

Taxes are pouring into the city and county treasuries.

Hon. Henry Monning has returned from Michigan City.

Levi Mans and Alice V. Snider have been licensed to wed.

Wm. Beverford is erecting a new butcher shop on South Calhoun street.
The circuit court jury gave N. O.
Miller judgment against Fred Graff for $100.

Mr. M. Frank is making costly improvements on the interior of the "Bee Hive."

The suit of Miller vs. the Grand Rapids road will be called by Judge Chapin next Monday.

Mary Van Ziles has been pronounced cured and is discharged from the state insane asylum.

The King's Daughters meet to-night
in the lecture room of the Berry Street
M. E. Church.

Mr. R. F. Kinniard is at Washington, D. C., attending a meeting of general passenger agents.

The "Bee Hive" has been newly papered and painted and represents a very striking appearance.

Deputy Sheriff Schrader celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his birth Sunday in a royal way.

The superior court jury reports for duty to-morrow and the case of Schmucke vs. Waters comes up.

The suit of G. W. Seavy vs. A. H.
Dougall et al. is on trial in the circuit court. This is an old reunion case.

The county commissioners went out to inspect new bridge work to-day. They will be in session a week and a half yet.

George Christ turned over to Justice France half a month's salary for provoking Eliza Pettiford, a colored sister.

Wm. Brossard has taken out a permit to build an addition to his house on lots
4 and 5, Wefel's addition, to cost $150.

The attractions Thursday night are the Hall-Bloodgood combination at the Temple and Hi Henry's minstrel party at the Academy.

Western travel over the Wabash railroad is immense. The sale of tickets at Toledo, during the month of February, was $5,000 more than for the same month last year.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger's lecture on the "Cromwellian Era," St. Patrick's evening, is attracting wide attention and the distinguished prelate will have a magnificent audience.

Hon. Sam Sinclair is so low that his death is momentarily expected. His sister, Miss Sue Sinclair, has been very ill with inflammatory rheumatism, but happily she is some better.

The Jenny electric light company of Fort Wayne has just closed a contract to light the Girard college grounds at Philadelphia. They will erect seven Star iron towers and the plant will have a total of over 100 lights.

Yesterday in "Squire Hays" court
Oliver P. Waters was fined $5 and costs for drawing a revolver on Frank Klein-richard. This is another chapter in the Waters-Delagrang row which has created some little stir in St. Joe township.

Receivers Humphreys and Tutt, of the Wabash, ceased to operate the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road yesterday. It will be run by General Wager Swayne as trustee for the bondholders—a financial but not an executive change.

Between the 4th and 12th of this month, eight working days, Pension Agent Zollinger and his assistants paid 29,940 pensioners. The total payment for the quarter will amount to about $12,500,000. The increase in amount of pensions paid at his office from one quarter to the next has been from $50,- 000 to $100,000 recently, the increase of the present quarter being in excess of $90,000.

Captain Dickerson, Mr. John Verder-
mark and Mr. White have returned from an extensive western tour. They stopped at Kansas City, Fort Scott, Wichita and every western town with anything like a boom. Captain Dickerson says he comes back to Fort Wayne better pleased with it and entertains a
more hopeful feeling than ever that its future is great. He says there is more solidity and greater chances for a boom
in Fort Wayne than any place they visited yet and he proposes to place his money right here.

The attention of our readers is called to the announcement of Sam, Pete &
Max. It certainly is a most liberal
mercantile enterprise, in which the entire community is interested. As usual,
this well known firm is first in the field
with an enormous stock of spring and summer clothing, gents' furnishings,
etc., at anti-boom prices. 15-daw

Joe Howard, Jr., on Cranks.

Mr. Howard spoke with little effort and in an ordinary tone, using no gesture.
The subject was "Cranks." Mr. Howard said that cranks, as a rule, were people who held opinions contrary to those held by the majority. These opinions, while being very good at times, were not accepted by common humanity because common humanity could not understand them. All the great inventors were considered cranks. Fulton was considered a crank, yet in history he is revered and looked upon as a great man. Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine,
which was of great benefit to hundreds of thousands of women, was a crank. His fellows spoke slightly of him when he was engaged in perfecting his great invention, but he lived to enjoy the fruits of his brain and sagacity. Eli Whitney was a crank, yet he did a great service for mankind. The most scientific men of the age in which Professor Morse lived pronounced him to be a crank, yet his name is now surrounded by a bright halo
in the history of our country.

The lecturer referred to other men who were benefactors and inventors who were stigmatized as cranks. He said that there were several hundred men in New York city who are worth millions of dollars and who work harder than men in their employ so that they may add to their fortune. They wanted to be the richest men on earth. They were undoubtedly cranks on this one subject—that of money making. A. T. Stewart wanted to be the great American merchant prince, and he was. He conceived the idea of erecting a magnificent white marble business building, which never would be marred by a business sign. He was a crank on this subject, and he had his way. Yet he died, and in a short time the entire building was covered with signs.—Joseph Howard, Jr.

PUNNY THINGS OF THE WAR.

Quar Franks Taken by Men on the March—Carrying a Looking Glass.

"There were lots of funny things about the war," said Col. Fredrick Martin, at the Brooklyn bazaar the other day,

"now that you think of them when the years are dead away, and about the fun-

niest things I recall were the queer articles the boys used to pick up on the march and the eccentric way in which they'd take 'em along to family adorn some dish

by the wayside. Stragglers were the worst at this, but all the fellows were bad enough. Whenever the army went through a first family residence, the boys

would capture what struck each as most attractive, and some of their tastes were peculiar. They had a great weakness for crystal. You may ask me what a man

treading his way to the front wanted with a mahogany cradle, and I'll tell it to

I know, but they took 'em. First one man would back a cradle and cart it a dozen miles; then he'd begin to fuss and finally drop it.

"I recall one cradle that traveled 100 miles on little trucks before it went to increase the blaze of a mass fire. Sometimes they would think vaguely that there was a chance of getting the infant soother

home, but they never succeeded.

"The funniest thing I ever saw carried

was a looking glass high as your head and two feet wide. I saw it in the parlor of a certain Virginia mansion and next to a soldier's back headed for Peter-burg. Thus I lost sight of it for two days and found it again propped up against a tree forty miles further along. The next day I saw it traveling tenderly on astrag-gle's back. He had his gun in one hand and had somehow strapped the glass so that he could get along without holding fast to it.

"Well, this fellow must have got tired,

for the next day a third man had it and the next a fourth. This chap took it on to the River at Petersburg. He set it up against a tree, took a long, regretful

look at full length, his shabby self and turned away with a sigh.

"It was just as well that he did. The next minute along came a rifle bullet,

braving like a horse, and hit the glass

square in the center and smashed it into a frame full of cracks radiating from around the hole.

The heavier and the more useless things were the more they clung to them, even

combining to escort pianos into ungodly

graves to land holes; but the man who could steal a rocking chair was a white

robed angel in his own mind and the object of universal envy.

"Another funny thing was to have the soldier strike the camp loaded with condemned milk. I've seen a whole regiment

sitting on a fence, each man with a milk

can in one hand, dipping out the thick

white stuff with his forefinger and licking

it off with an expression of beatitude that would make a Raphaelite saint look sick

in comparison."—New York Sun.

DARK DAYS

Seen to All the Rage in South Carolina,
According to the Events
Narrated Below.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 15.—The court of sessions or criminal court of Edgefield county is now sitting in Edgefield and the docket is loaded with cases,
the most of which are for offenses against the person. During the past week, B. D. Timmesman, who some months ago shot and killed a negro boy, seventeen years of age, in a spirit of malicious mischief, was declared "not guilty" and was set free. Robert T.
Jones, an artist, having killed three men in one day, all relatives, has just been found guilty of manslaughter, the jury having "given what they termed" a "compromise verdict." Jones shot two brothers-in-law and his father-in-law, all named Presby.
In one case the jury disagreed and now he escapes the gallows by the above verdict. The cause celebre is, however, the Oulbreath lynching case, which began yesterday morning. Thirty-one men are accused of the murder of O. T.
Oulbreath, September 21, 1885. These men, when first arraigned, all pleaded
"not guilty" and were admitted to bail.
Many of the defendants are representatives of the best families in the state,
among them being State Senator Talbert. One is a prominent physician, another is a brother of Mrs. Oulbreath.
Half of them charged with the crime are married, and some are white haired and have grand children. There is no likelihood that they will be convicted, although the state is making a strong effort to secure the punishment of the murderers. During the last thirteen years there has been 112 murders committed in the county. The record for the year 1886 shows fourteen.

A SISTER'S SHAME

Is Insufficiently Avenge in a Cincinnati Court Room by Patrick Sheehan.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—This morning when the prisoners were brought into police court for trial, an athletic young man, who had been standing by the store for some time sprang at the line
and struck one of the prisoners a blow which sent him staggering across the room, and attempted to follow up the assault, but was overpowered, and by direction of the court he was locked up for contempt of court. A vicious knife was found in his pocket, and he declared he would have vengeance at the first opportunity. His name was Patrick Sheehan. The prisoner, Teddy Cunningham, was about to be tried for having formerly carried from the street to his room, on Saturday night last, the fifteen year old sister of Sheehan, as she was returning from church and keeping her a prisoner in his room, subject to his lust, until Monday morning. Cunningham's trial was postponed.

A GOOD ONE.

A New York Lad Starts on a Tramp With
$29,950 in Bank Checks.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Albert Parr,
a sixteen-year-old messenger boy employed by the Wall street firm of Olcott & Winter, was seized with a desire to become a tramp a few days ago. Accordingly when he was sent to the bank Monday with $29,950 in checks and some cash to deposit he did not go to the bank, but started out on his travels. He got no far as Williamsburg, when he met some tramps of the real kind. They soon spent all the cash Parr had and then discovered they could not cash the checks. The boy accordingly tore them into small pieces and threw them away.
He and his companions have been arrested and the Wall street firm is trying to get duplicates of their checks.

Death of Tilden's Sister.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Mrs. Mary P.
Tilden, sister of the late ex-Governor
Tilden, died Saturday of pneumonia, aged 78 years. A city paper says: "None of the money or other property left her
by her brother, the late Governor Tilden,
had been received up to the time of her death. A special request to the executors to hurry up the execution of the trust, so that she might enjoy it during her lifetime, was made some time ago, and met with no response. Mr.
A. H. Green called upon Mrs. Tilden a short time ago, and offered to loan her some money to meet any pressing necessities, but Mrs. Tilden replied that she did not care to borrow any money

but would like to have what her brother had left her. The old ladies were very much disappointed to think they have been treated so shabbily by the executors.
The death of Mrs. Tilden may possibly bring them to their senses. The friends of the family say the heirs have been treated by the executors more as mandants than sisters, nieces and relatives of the dead statesman and millionaire."

CREMATED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—The large brick building of Miller, Greiner & Co., corner of Washington and North Division streets, opposite the Commercial Advertiser office, burned this morning. Loss on building $200,000; on stock $250,000. Insurance heavy. It is reported that two or three firemen
are buried in the ruins.

Meat Business.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 15.—The steamer City of New York arrived from Hong Kong late last night. It announces the failure of the Tung Lung chinese bank. When the fact was made known, a crowd of native creditors
stormed the bank and completely ransacked and destroyed every thing in the building.

NO BLUFF.

The Speed of a Murder is Fatally Decided by Two Kentucky
Friends.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 15.—A special from Morehead, Ky., says: "Another of Morehead's citizens breathed his last this morning at the hands of his best and most esteemed friend, J. B. Withers, formerly a conductor on the Chesapeake
and Ohio railroad, was talking with his friend, John Trumbo, and playfully remarked: 'I could cut your throat, Trumbo, were you and I to get into a fight, before you could draw your pistol
to save your life.'"
"Well," said Trumbo, "I will just show you that you couldn't." Thus saying, he pulled his pistol, pointing it at Withers, when the deadly weapon
went off and Withers fell to the floor dead. It is said that they entertained not the least malice and never had any difficulty.

Southern Prison Directors.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 15.—Governor
Gray yesterday appointed Mr. Clement Doane, of Jasper, Dubois county, and
Mr. George W. Deane, of Corydon, Harrison county, to be directors of the southern prison.

Warden Patton will recommend Representative W. L. Barnes, of Charlestown, Clark county, for deputy warden;

Mr. W. F. Johnson, of Orange county, for steward, and Mr. Richard Connor, of this city, for clerk.

Starting Up.

MILWAUKEE, March 15.—Nail factory, nail plate mill and cooper shops of the North Chicago rolling mill company's plant, and Hayview, has resumed operations after an idleness of several months.
About 200 men were given employment.

A Watchman Buried.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 15.—The half consumed body of Henry Warnke, night watchman on the Pittsburgh Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, was found cremated on a pile of railroad ties
at Crafton.

He Must Hang.

St. Louis, March 15.—Henry Landgroff, who was convicted last week of murdering his sweetheart, Annie Thiel, was sentenced to be hanged April 29th.

Handling Sails for Europe.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Ex-Secretary Manning sailed for Europe on the steamer, Arizona, this morning. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Following are the weather indications:
Indiana, fair, warmer weather,
On Saturday and Sunday, being sunk
by the Marion coal gas company, struck a riot flow of gas at a depth of 875 feet.
William Ataman was drowned at Elkhart Saturday night by the upsetting of a row-boat. The remains have not recovered.

Alexander W. Nixon, grocer of Noblesville, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to John C. Craig-Assoc., about $1,600; liabilities $2,000.

HOW IT WORKS.

Advance Features From the Inter State
Commerce Law.

At a meeting of railroad managers in Commissioner Fink's office in New York Friday, the following decisions were made: Mileage tickets are abolished.
Ministers are allowed reduced fares.
Excursion tickets are defined to mean a round trip ticket sold at a reduced rate to a person who, under conditions, desires to make a journey within a given time to a given point and return, and the intention of the law is taken to be that all questions of restriction, limitation,
place and fare are to be left to the discretion of the railway companies interested respectively.

Free baggage is allowed of 100 pounds
on each full first or second class ticket;
twenty-five on each half ticket, and 150 pounds respectively on each full or half immigrant ticket. Baggage in excess of the allowances up to an absolute limit of 250 pounds (except for the ship immigrants) is to be charged not less than 12 per cent. of the lowest unlimited first class fare. No commercial baggage, mineral instruments, organs, pianos,
donkeys, horses or theatrical scenery will be transported as free baggage, and all excess baggage, under bonds and permits are to be withdrawn from sale. When joint tariffs of through fares are established where two or more connecting roads are concerned no party to the joint tariff can make any change except after formal notice to other parties. Differential fares for through and competitive business are to be established by consultation and agreement.

JUST 32,800.

The Population of Fort Wayne Offi-
ure Above.

The taking of the census of the city was completed last night and the work was received by the finance committee of the common council. The gentlemen engaged in the work were careful and conscientious. They went over the ground carefully, and if anything their showing of a population of 32,800 is below the mark. It does not include South Wayne, the Gentile brewery settlement and the people across the St.
Joseph river. They are just outside the city limits, but are all tributary to Fort Wayne and swell its population a few thousand.

The report of the census takers was to ascertain the eastern holders of city bonds that Fort Wayne had a population of over 30,000, and is as follows:

First ward—First precinct, 1,640;
second precinct, 1,445.
Second ward—First precinct, 1,817;
second precinct, 1,841.
Third ward—First precinct, 1,640;
second precinct, 1,835.
Fourth ward—First precinct, 1,860;
second precinct, 1,765.
Fifth ward—First precinct, 1,980;
second precinct, 2,401.
Sixth ward—First precinct, 1,875;
second precinct, 2,012.
Seventh ward—First precinct, 2,413;
second precinct, 2,474.
Eighth ward—First precinct, 1,845;
second precinct, 2,696.
Ninth ward—First precinct, 1,285;
second precinct, 1,567.
This totals up a total population of 32,800 for the city of Fort Wayne.

ITS A GO.

The Business Men's Exchange Start
The Pennington Machine
Works With $7-
500.

There was another big meeting of the Business Men's Exchange last evening.
Mr. E. C. Baroda presided and Hon.
Montgomery Hamilton, P. A. Randall,
J. C. Peters, Ernest Seligman and F.
L. Jones were admitted to membership, making a total of seventy names on the roll call.

Messrs. Montgomery Hamilton, J. C.
Peters and Louis Rastetter reported their visit to the United States and examined into Mr. E. J. Pennington's business and his own standing. Their report was so enthusiastic of the man and an favorable to his business that he had an hour the members subscribed $7,500 towards the $20,000 necessary to establish Mr. Pennington's business here. The gentleman himself put his name down for $15-000 and a committee consisting of Messrs. Mont. Hamilton, H. C. Wines,
John C. Peters, Fred Eckert and S. C.

Lumbard were appointed to solicit the additional subscriptions necessary to complete the organization of the "Fort Wayne Machine Works."

Spirited speeches were made by Col.
D. N. Foster, P. A. Randall, A. S. Lan-derty, Mr. John C. Peters, Mr. G. W.
Seavey, Mr. E. W. Lewis and others, and every topic was touched on. The exchange is going to boom the city and invites the co-operation of all the business men.

A COOL ONE.

A Tramp Rides From Danville to Fort
Wayne on a Mail Car.

When the Wabash fast line pulled into the city this morning, Officer Limecooly discovered a tramp laying snugly along side the ventilating windows, on top of the United States mail car. The tramp was summoned down and reluctantly released his embrace of the stove pipe, which pierced the roof just enough to give him anchorage. The fellow grumbled at being disturbed and said, "you might let me go to Toledo, after coming this far." He related that he climbed on the coach at Danville and rode in his hairy berth all night. He was bound for Toledo, his home, but decided to give his name, as he began to size up an incoming east bound freight train.

The Coroner's Work.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen, the coroner, has closed inquiry into the case of John McNally, the Wallace street grocer, and finds that death resulted from the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants. The Sexton is requested to correct the statement that Mrs. McNally went to the saloon of John Nolan. Instead she called on Mrs. James Nolan.
Mr. Charles Stethem investigated the death of Isaac Hefflinger, out near Huntsdown. He learns that the man had been drinking hard and surmises
that night before last he sought shelter
in a straw stack on the Clinter farm.
He died then from exposure and lay
there until Charles Gephard discovered his body.

Hefflinger has a brother in Lake township and he took charge of the remains yesterday.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Morton club is making strenuous efforts to give Colonel Robertson and Speaker Sayre a monster reception at the Temple to-night.

Mr. P. H. Murray, the genial baggageman on the Grand Rapids road, is nee Hanley, lives at Grand Rapids.

Wm. Parker, traveling auditor of the Pennsylvania company, and C. E. Murray, traveling auditor of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, are in the city.

There was a big neighborhood quarrel on Chicago street yesterday. Carrie Sigman and Anna Russell got into an altercation, and after a characteristic tongue lashing, Mrs. Russell smashed in the front door of Mrs. Sigman's house and proceeded to dance a jig on Carrie's neck. The Russell woman lay in all night in default of bed and this morning Justice Francee found her on two charges—provoke and malicious troupe. Anna will figure in jail if some one does not come to her rescue.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The stock

A Brace of Damaging Fires Loom up
to Test the New Gamewell
System.

Last week Chief Hilbrecht and his assistants completed the new Gamewell fire alarm system, and last night it was thoroughly tested, showing how admirably it is arranged.

About 10 o'clock an alarm came from box 1-2, in the Ninth ward. A barn owned by Christ Shaffer, on High street, was ablaze, but the department stopped the fire without much damage.
This fire is said to be of incendiary origin.

Shortly after 1 o'clock last night
Officer Lee discovered flames issuing from a stable in the rear of the old Ed-sell home, on West Main street.
The residence is occupied jointly by Mr.
S. A. Annett and H. Hohenholz, who stabled two horses belonging to Mr.
Dan Shordan while Mr. Annett occupied another part for his horse and delivery wagon. The structure was very inflammable and burned like paper from the fact that gasoline was stored in the upper portion. The police and firemen rescued Mr. Annett's horse and wagon, but Mr. Shordan's were perished. They refused to leave the structure, which speedily burned about them.

The stable, which was the property of the Equitable Trust company, was insured by Mr. A. C. Lumbard.
Mr. Annett held no insurance and loses possibly $200. Mr. Shordan's loss is $300, with no insurance.

The roof of the stable in the rear of Mr. J. M. Kane's residence was burned off, but the structure was saved by the department, as well as two horses and vehicles stored therein. Mr. Kane held no insurance on his barn.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.
TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1887.

SENATOR JONES OF NEVADA struck no such rich streaks of luck as lately represented. He has had no great streaks of fortune. He has done well in business, but has had nothing like the success which the numerous paragraphs printed have attributed to him.

GOV. OLIVER ADAMS of Massachusetts is a five-fold millionaire, with an income of more than $100,000 a year. Public sympathy is very strongly aroused in behalf of his efforts to secure an increase in his salary as Governor from $5,000 to $10,000 a year.

MR. GEORGE BANCROFT has a German body-servant who has been with him ever since he was at Berlin. The servant yokes the historian precisely at 7 o'clock every morning, and prepares his clothes for him to put on, and an hour later brings him his breakfast, of which the principal feature is fine wheat bread.

THE safety envelope looks very much like any other envelope except on the gum flap, where there is a lock-stitch arrangement, two little strips of paper passing through slits prepared for them and facing under the flap, so that any attempt to loose the envelope by steaming or other known processes will result in breaking the lock and disclosing the burglary.

THE Rev. G. T. Dowling, of Cleveland, was among the clergymen of this city who were invited to witness a performance of the "Black Crook." In refusing the invitation he said: "I would as soon accept an invitation from the devil to watch the fires of hell burn. The invitation is an insult. The Kinky Brothers must look upon the clergy of this country as a gang of long-eared asses."

MRS. LANTHIER has been telling of some of the freaks of Joaquin Miller, when the poet of the Sierras was at the height of his notoriety in London. He wrote a poem in her honor and called it "The Lily." A few days after his publication Miller approached Mrs. Lanthier at a large reception, and after paying his respects, bowed himself backward out of the room, and as he retreated uttered some words, which he had exclaimed in his trousers pocket, on the floor. At that time Miller, she says, appeared in public in a red flannel shirt and top-boots.

SWITZERLAND has recently enacted two laws, the operation of which will be watched with the keenest interest all over the world. One is graduated taxation. This applies to income. Men laborers, and these who make a bare living, are not taxed at all; but the larger the income, the heavier the tax. Thus, a man in receipt of $10,000 per annum pays relatively more than one whose yearly earnings are $5,000 or less. The object of the law is to discourage large accumulations of property. Indeed, it is a punishment to a man for being richer than his fellows.

WHEN it came to the question of re-organizing a certain pretty school teacher in Northumberland County, Canada, some of the trustees objected, saying that she who had so many admirers, that they interfered with her duties. So they drew up an agreement to the effect that she should not keep company during the coming year with any young men during school hours. Upon her refusal to sign this it was decided to leave it to a vote of the meeting as to whether she should stay or not. A show of hands resulted in a tie, when the chairman, being a young man, gave the casting vote in her favor.

LYNCH, which is half-forgotten coal, has not, up to this time, attracted much attention as a combustible; but there are several parts of the earth in which it is found in abundance; in some cases, notably in Italy, to the exclusion of coal. In Italy, there is no coal; the railway locomotives are kept going by means of imported coal, and if Italy were to go to war, it would not be able even to keep up its railway service; for coal is, above most things, a contraband of war. The Italian Government has taken this matter up, and has given orders to its railway service to make the locomotives such that either coal or lignite may be burned by them; and this will give a stimulus to the working of the extensive beds of lignite which lie about the center of the peninsula, half way between the Mediterranean and Adriatic. On the line of the Northern Pacific and on the Canadian Pacific Railways, lignite is found in great quantities, and locomotives will be constructed for its utilization.

THAT Three Feeting. As the spring is in the spring, the system having become accustomed to the warming air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this

A DINNER AT DELMONICO'S.

Four or Five Dinners Given Every Night During the Winter Season.

I happened to go into Delmonico's the other day in order to find out what kind of a dinner one could get for $50 to $100 a plate. The party was to be one of a dozen gentlemen, and after satisfying myself that for $100 a plate there would be no such thing as a dinner, I went to make every one of the party remember the dinner for at least a week, I fell into conversation with the steward of the house as to the number of dinners of this kind which he could give in the winter season. It will amuse most people to know that it is the exception during the winter season when there are not four or five private dinner parties given every night in the upstairs room at Delmonico's, at prices ranging all the way from $10 to $200 a plate. The larger the party the more reasonable the price. The average price is about $3, which includes three or four kinds of wines and eight. There have been dinners of this kind given for $25 a plate, but the money was spent upon elaborate presents to be put each plate upon a table of delicacies of the season, or rather of the season, for the aim at such dinners is to amuse the guests by setting before them things that they rarely see in every day life.

The Delmonico steward is something of a genius in the way of running up the cost of a dinner without endangering the life of the diner. He has a way of making a dinner of $100 a plate, but the money was spent upon elaborate presents to be put each plate upon a table of delicacies of the season, or rather of the season, for the aim at such dinners is to amuse the guests by setting before them things that they rarely see in every day life.

WHAT VODOO WORSHIP IS.

The Signification of the Word "Voodoo," Worship in Hayti-Tumple.

Sir Spencer, St. John gives a very spirited description of Voodoo worship in Hayti. "According to the true sciences of the Voodoos," he says, "who maintain its principle and obey its rules, 'Voodoo' signifies an all powerful and supernatural being on whom depend all the events which take place in the world. This being is the non-representable serpent, so common in Hayti—and it is under its auspices that all those assemblies who profess this doctrine. Acquaintance with the past, knowledge of the present, prediction of the future, all appertain to this serpent, that only consents, however, to communicate his power and prescribe his will through the organ of a grand priest, whom the secretaries elect, and still more by that of the negroes, whom the love of the latter had raised to the rank of high priests. These two delegates, who declare themselves inspired by their god or in whom the gift of auguration is fully manifested, in the opinion of their followers, bear the common name of 'king' and 'queen,' or the designative one of 'master' and 'mistress,' or the touching titles of 'papa' and 'mama.' They are during their whole lives the chiefs of the sect, and the priests, and they have a right to the unlimited respect of those who compose it. It is they who decide if the serpent agrees to admit a candidate into the society, who prescribe the obligations and the duties he has to fulfill, and who receive the gifts and the presents which the gods expect as a just homage to him.

"To disobey him, to resist him, to disobey God himself and expose one's self to the greatest misfortune. This system of domination on the one hand, and of blind obedience on the other being well established, they at fixed dates meet together and the king and queen of the Voodoo preside, following the forms which have been probably brought from Africa and to which the negroes have added many variations and some traits which betray European ideas, as for instance the scarf or ribb which the queen wears at these assemblies, and which she occasionally wears on her head.

"As for the practice of Voodoo worship, it is well to say that of the voodoo in Hayti there seem to be two classes—those who worship the serpent and offer animal sacrifices to appease his wrath or court his favor, and those who kill human beings and not only offer them as sacrifices, but eat their flesh. Of the former 10 per cent. of the inhabitants of Hayti are alleged to be given over in that way to Voodooism to a certain extent, and the latter sufficient have been told, the temples of the voodoo are generally small, unpretentious wooden buildings—erected by the natives (Haitians)—and are scattered generally throughout the interior of Hayti. Some of them are more magnificent in their interior decorations, and one situated a little distance back of Houma du Cap was profusely decorated with illustrations from colored weekly pamphlets, interspersed with gaudy drawings of various sorts.

A MEDICINE, NOT A DRINK!

High Authority.
Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for sale, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters.
GREEN B. BACON,
U. S. Chemist's Patent Rev.

WYENSTON, D. C., Sept. 24, 1884.
Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W. of Baltimore, showing he has cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful cure. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York, in fact all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for him. I honestly believe his cure would be worth thousands of dollars to you. In this city and Baltimore, alone, make thousands of jobs men by inducing the use of your bitters.

Prejudice Kills.
"Eleven years ago I suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave me various dietetic names but no relief, and now I am restored to me in good health by Hop Bitters, that we had received two years before using it. We are now happy and healthy, and no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Puritan—Good Templars.

Minors, Del., Feb. 10, 1886.
Having used Hop Bitters, the natural remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc., I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic medicine. Respectfully,
Rev. Mrs. J. H. RILGWOOD.

Sonno, M. Y., Dec. 1, 1884.
I am the pastor of the Baptist church here and an educated physician. I am not in practice, but am my sole family physician, and advise in chronic cases. Over a year ago I recommended your Hop Bitters to my invalid wife, who has been under medical treatment of Albany's best physicians several years. She has been greatly benefited and still uses the medicine. I believe she will become thoroughly cured of her various complicated diseases by their use. We both recommend them to our friends, many of whom have also been cured of their various ailments by them.

Cured of Drinking.
"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor that he had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It, allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady; and he has remained a steady and sober man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. Captain Dickerson, Mr. John Vorder-
mark and Mr. White have returned
from an extensive western tour. They
stopped at Kansas City, Fort Scott,
Wichita and every western town with anything like a boom. Captain Dickerson says he comes back to Fort Wayne
better pleased with it and entertains a
more hopeful feeling than ever that its
future is great. He says there is more
solidity and greater chances for a boom
in Fort Wayne than any place they visited yet and he proposes to place his
money right here.
The attention of our readers is called to the announcement of Sam, Pete &
Max. It certainly is a most liberal
mercantile enterprise, in which the entire community is interested. As usual,
this well known firm is first in the field
with an enormous stock of spring and
summer clothing, goods' furnishings,
etc., at anti-boom prices.

Joe Howard, Jr., on Cranks.
Mr. Howard spoke with little effort and in an ordinary tone, using no gesture. The subject was "Cranks." Mr. Howard said that cranks, as a rule, were people who held opinions contrary to those held by the majority. These opinions, while being very good at times, were not accepted by common humanity because common humanity could not understand them. All the great inventors were considered cranks. Fulton was considered a crank, yet in history he is revered and looked upon as a great man. Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, which was of great benefit to hundreds of thousands of women, was a crank. His fellow spoke slightly of him when he was engaged in perfecting his great invention, but he lived to enjoy the fruits of his brain and sagacity. Eli Whitney was a crank, yet he did a great service for mankind. The most serious men of the age in which Professor Morse lived pronounced him to be a crank, yet his name is now surrounded by a bright halo in the history of our country.
The lecturer referred to other men who were benefactors and inventors who were stigmatized as cranks. He said that there were several hundred men in New York city who are worth millions of dollars and who work harder than men in their employ so that they may add to their fortune. They wanted to be the richest man on earth. They were undoubtedly cranks on this subject—fant of money making. A. T. Stewart wanted to be the great American merchant prince, and he was. He conceived the idea of erecting a magnificent white marble business building, which never would be surpassed by a business sign. He was a crank on this subject, and he had his way. Yet he died, and in a short time the entire building was covered with signs—Joseph Howard, Jr.
